THE SHOW BOAT

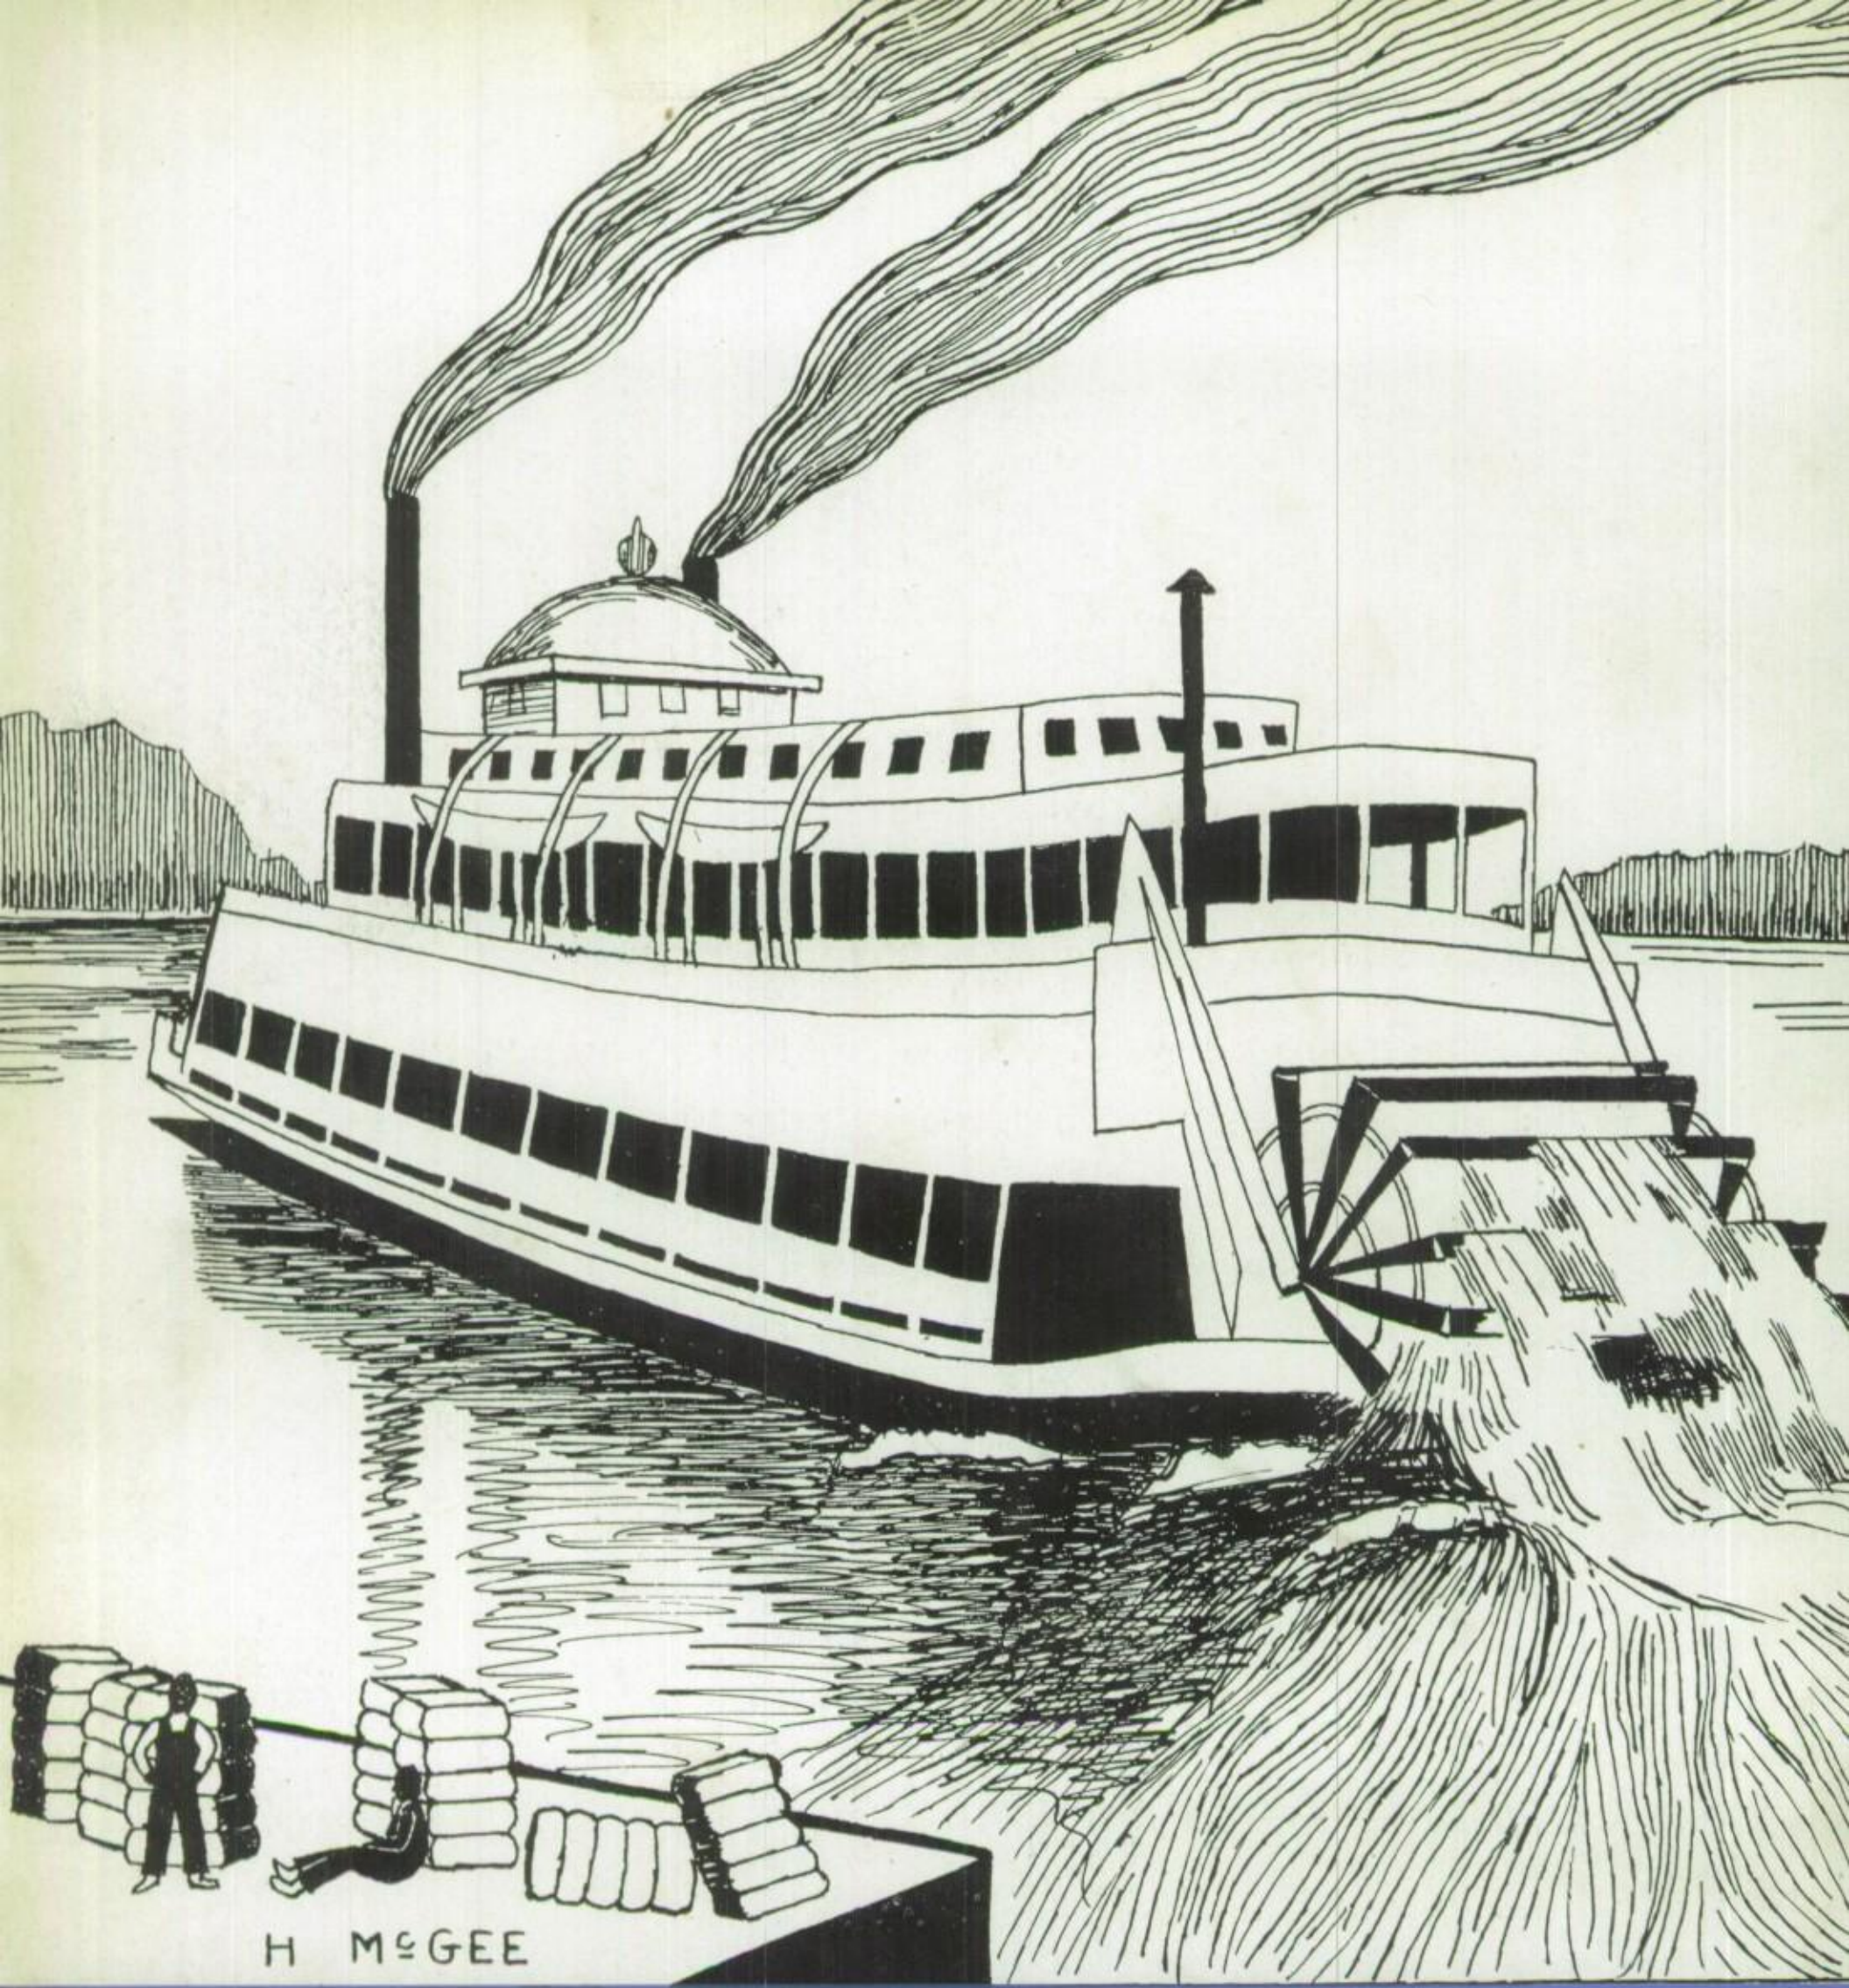

Copyright, 1938

Bill Allen Business Manager

The Theme

Let us, in our fancy, return to those glorious days when the Showboat drifted leisurely along the Mississippi—when hearts were gay, and manners and customs were in perfect harmony with the lazy flow of The River.

The mournful wail of the siren echoing through the distant swamp land, a boisterous yet thrilling tune from a blaring band, the pleasant ripple of muddy waters, shouts of praise and applause from the crowd on the dock—and the Showboat drops her ponderous anchor!

To this most romantic era in our Southland's colorful history, we turn for the theme of this, the 1938 Cotton Boll.

Because he has imparted to us a better appreciation of culture, and because he has ever stood as the true friend and counsellor of all, and, through his desire for improvement, has given us inspiration and encouragement, we, the Staff of the 1938 Cotton Boll, dedicate this volume to Mr. Alvin J. King.

MR. KIRBY P. WALKER

Superintendent of City Schools

Mr. Walker received his early college education at Southwestern, Memphis, Tennessee, where he was awarded the Bachelor of Arts degree. He attended Peabody College at Nashville, Tennessee, and later the University of Chicago, where he received the Master of Arts degree. Having first served as an instructor of Social Sciences, he later became Superintendent of the Forrest County Agricultural High School, at Brooklyn, Mississippi. For one and one-half years he served as State Superintendent of Junior Colleges in the State Department of Education. He also served as State Director of Emergency Education Program. He was appointed as Assistant Superintendent of Jackson Public Schools in 1935, and in December, 1936, he advanced to the position of Superintendent. One of the youngest and most progressive superintendents in the state, Mr. Walker has earned during the past three years the entire support of the patrons and the love of the students of Central High.

DR. I. F. SIMMONS

Director of Instruction

Dr. Simmons' professional training includes study at Howard College, from which he received the B. A. degree; George Peabody College, from which he received the Master of Arts and Doctor of Philosophy degrees; and Columbia University, and the University of Bordeaux, France. Since 1934 he has been director of Instruction in the Secondary Schools of Jackson. Although he rarely comes in direct contact with the student body, his enthusiastic work in curriculum revision and improvement of instruction affects every one of us.

MR. J. L. ROBERTS

Principal of Central High School

The figure of Mr. Roberts is a familiar one to students at Central. His academic training at Mississippi College, where he received the Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts degrees, and his graduate study at the University of Chicago have equipped him well for the principalship of Central High, a school that still pays some tribute to traditional education. His first position here was as instructor of Latin and director of athletics. During the past eighteen years, while he has acted as principal, from the halls of Central thousands of men and women have gone forth with a sincere devotion to J. L. Roberts in their hearts.

MR. L. H. WRIGHT

Business Manager

Mr. Lynville H. Wright was educated at Delta State College, where he received the Bachelor of Science degree. In 1934 he came to Jackson to fill the position of Business Manager and Building Supervisor of the City Schools, and since that time has been an indispensable member of the administration. One of those persons seldom seen in the daily walks about Central, Mr. Wright has made himself known to all through the efficiency with which he has discharged his duties.

To those who, during the entire course of our high school life, have been as a beacon light to us, who, by their wise instruction and broad sympathy have interpreted anew the opportunities of learning, to those whose encouraging words have comforted every downcast one, whose aid has ever been willing and kindly, we give our sincere appreciation and love.

Alma Mater

Gracious gifts our Alma Mater
Showered with noble hand and true,
Through the years have come to bless us,
Come with gen'rous love from you.
Gifts of knowledge and of wisdom,
Guidance true ne'er failed us yet;
Gifts of friendship and of comrades
All our lives we'll not forget.

Alma Mater, still remember,
Alma Mater, bless us yet.
Grateful still, dear Alma Mater,
Thee not one can e'er forget.

We in our turn bring remembrance
Lay our gifts at thy fair gate.
Loving thee with feeling tender,
Loyal still in Mem'ry—wait,
Wait thy blessing, Alma Mater,
Living true to ideals dear.
Bless the gifts we bring thee gladly
Bless each one who enters here.

To Our Alma Mater

To this first milestone now our faltering steps have led,
On lightning feet these three short years have sped.
Glorious years! Small wonder that it seems
So hard to lose old ties, young dreams
For new horizons beckoning ahead.
But we are young, courageous, and strong,
Quick to our lips is the surge of song—
We feel the eager, warming glow
For life—and you have made us so.

Your halls of learning we depart
Dear memories blazoned in each heart;
“We shall not pass this way again”
But to know this would ease the pain:
That we have made your name more fair
Because we lived and labored there!

CAPITOL STREET DAY BY DAY

By Crafton Gilpin

Diary: Up at 5 A. M. distracted by the street noises and weary about this and that. But after a shower and some breakfast all merry and bright again. So driving to Vicksburg to see Cleta Gordon, who has been visiting in the hills of Ohio and learned to milk a cow. Afterwards across country to Dorothy Ann Bell's estate and walked among her flowers. Lillian Seymour and Horace Hines to dinner and an early show. Then to the Heidelberg Roof where I came upon Alice Sharpe, Ann Herbert, and Nancy Graham, all agog about the new book Virginia Patterson has just authored. A small chat with Frances Tyson and then home, where I had a sudden seizure to work, my fingers flying across the typewriter for about 15 minutes and then no thoughts whatsoever. And wondered at my drowsiness until I recollected my early rising. Then quickly to bed.

George Gillespie is in town considering bids from agencies on his "Your Witness" program. Hear it's a novelty in radio—which certainly can use one. Frances Freiley's forthcoming book, The Piggly Wiggly Honeymoon or All Around the World, is a cinch to click according to some critics who have read the manuscript. A certain lady in town is m-a-a-d about Mac McAtee, vice-president of General Motors. Mac is fond of her, but fonder of his piano, the beast! Mary Elizabeth Nordin is now admitting that her merger with Harvard's Dr. Albert Sanders should take place before another full moon. Kathleen Frazier left the new French Casino show last week and sailed for London where she will wed an Argentine gold mine. Mark Ethridge, who may elope any day with Nell Murray, may get a post in South America from his Washington contacts. Jack Wilson chartered a plane to bring his wife, Jean Hills, from New York, but cancelled it when Jean wired back "Keep your bird; send me a choo-choo."

Raymond Martin, editor of the New York Times, just decorated Cele Burdette with a sparkler. Martha Sheffield, under the stage name of Mjarta Schaefer, opens at the Met next week singing Mimi in "La Boheme." Hubby Rufus Broadway heads a spirited and enterprising advertising agency which doesn't prevent him from being what is laughingly termed a jolly good fellow. Thomas Spengler, back on the Coast to slave for M. G. M. for the weekly wage of $2,750, will receive his pay in daily installments. He explained this peculiar stipulation by insisting he always wanted to be a day laborer. Elethia Rodgers is reputed to have two standing offers for New York columnist posts but prefers Jackson. Lucky Lady: Leah Gordon is the only actress in the season's biggest dramatic smash, The Men. Ida Sylvia Hart is toying with the marriage proposal of an English earl. Ida Sylvia's new book Buy American is just off the press.

Henry Hederman, former editor of the Clarion Ledger, has gone with the Associated Press. His successor will be Harry Owen. LeRoy Duckworth is one of the few men about town whose sun tan isn't from a lamp. He pilots one of the Panama clippers twice monthly. Richard Powell, male lead of Guess Again Please, and Estelle Pullen, of Your Turn Now, were secretly stitched two weeks ago. Coiffure styles come and go but mean nothing to Flora Mae Green and her curls.

Bob Rusling, the cartoonist, goes to Florida every winter because he always catches a cold after having a haircut. The only rendezvous left in town for laughs is Wilson DeFore's Club.

George Gillespie is in town considering bids from agencies on his "Your Witness" program. Hear it's a novelty in radio—which certainly can use one. Frances Freiley's forthcoming book, The Piggly Wiggly Honeymoon or All Around the World, is a cinch to click according to some critics who have read the manuscript. A certain lady in town is m-a-a-d about Mac McAtee, vice-president of General Motors. Mac is fond of her, but fonder of his piano, the beast! Mary Elizabeth Nordin is now admitting that her merger with Harvard's Dr. Albert Sanders should take place before another full moon. Jack Wilson chartered a plane to bring his wife, Jean Hills, from New York, but cancelled it when Jean wired back "Keep your bird; send me a choo-choo."

18 The actors make it nearly every night—Dickie Lauderdale arrived in town last night to select eight girls for his new Broadway show. No wonder Velma Louise Warmath's song arrangements are so marvelous. The girl who does them is Doris Nelle McCormick, pianist in Gladys Walden's girl band. Nelson Goings, dance director at Columbia, and Beverly Ellis, of Paramount's Scenario department, have collaborated on a novel to be published by Stickney and Stevens. Helen Ricks has just led her tenth to the altar. Hear she's going to be presented with a loving cup—and I do mean a Loving cup. Jane Clark accused Sarah Woolum of being vain. That's a hot one! Accusing an actress of being vain is like accusing an ordinary person of breathing. Evaline Khayat, Jackson's only woman editor, joins the Roxy Theatre publicity force next week. Despite reports to the contrary, model Mary Stone and a certain song plugger will make it an altar parade in June. Eugene Morse recently bought a new plane costing $97,000. It has a bar, too. Orchestra leader Joseph Metz seems likely to become a dyed-in-the-wool westerner. His stay at the San Francisco-Hazel Hagan whoop de do last summer gave him a sharp taste for life on the pampas. Harris Carter, long a book critic, now reads only newspapers and magazines. Helen McGee holds the palm for giving the stunniest celebrity parties in town. Frances Lane (her brother Lamar weds Margaret Bridges on the 28th) and Melvin Bain, of exploring fame, are a handsome romance. Winifred Mansfield doesn't seem to be able to make up her mind about careering—whether to remain within call of the studios in Hollywood or occupy her usual position as staff designer at Bonwit Teller's in New York. Katherine Grime's new score for Winter Honeymoon tops everything she has composed. I hear. If you have any spare orchids around chuck them at Shelton Key, who designed the new Governor's Mansion. The idea of putting an Automat in the basement for visiting congressmen was genius. Actor Clem Crook will be in town this week. He will tepee at the Walthall. Mrs. Crook (Cordelia Batte) is coming, too. Blanche Upshaw, formerly of the Saturday Evening Post, is the new society editor of the Daily News. Mary McRae's latest merger threat is William E. Dent of the Chicago Stock Exchange. By this time, director Sam Shultz should be on his way to Europe to produce a play in Berlin for Mary Edith Noble. T. C. Shilling tells me he is beginning to discover that people who move in the best circles have the worst circles under their eyes. . . . Jessie Hammond, who was once romantically linked with Hal Vick (but who wasn't?) is to be married shortly. A Paramount talent scout is the lucky man. . . . Variety editor William Fazakerly writes notes in French to his friends just to keep in practice. Beatrice Lehman, the photographer, tells me her memoirs are almost finished. The book will be christened Everybody's Posin'. . . . R. C. A. president, George McInnis, and Martha Louise Dent, current Follies beauty, were secretly jelled in New York last month.

SPAPSHOTS AT RANDOM:

Bill Allen and Julia May Watkins catching the eyes at the University Club the other night—La Watkins in a famous Olga Wright creation of metallic gold, halting to chat with Simon Marks and Martha Dean. John Mangum and Anne Newell deciding between sole delicate and ham and eggs. Song writer Tom Weber chanting his latest to pretty Ola Pearl Burns. Beulah Rivers teaching Procter McRae her latest dance, the Mediocre Banana. Millsaps' coach, John Davis, and Florence Powell, humming along with baritone Philip Brooks pouring out his soul and rich tones in "Melancholy Baby" at the Yacht Club.

Olympic Champion Mary Ann Armstrong will soon forfeit her amateur standing when she meets Herbert Biggs for 15 rounds at the Little Church Around the Corner. Beth Norman, who resumes her weekly personality column on N. B. C. when she recovers from a slight illness, is rumored on the verge of going to the middle-aisle. . . . The advance sale for Peggy Hubbard's new show is $75,000 already. . . . Edwin Daniels, the tennis champion, recently turned down a contract with a large Eastern studio. . . . Carolyn Slaymaker, who does the editorials for American, has gone to Europe to find some new copy. . . . From England comes word that aviator Robert Arnold and Edna Earl Bishop, have announced their betrothal. . . . Charlton Roby, of the Cinema City, is en route to New York to charter a yacht for a South Seas cruise. Edgar Wright, Mary Jane Newsom, Rosemary Prince, Wilden Rice, and Russell Thompson have already been invited. Adine Jones, whose "Show of Shows" opened on the Coast to a big business, is due in town any moment. . . . Many of the young blades around town are wondering what has happened to Mabel Betrous. Mabel went to Hawaii two years ago and liked it so well she hasn't come back. . . . Benton O'Neal, composer of "Moonlight on the Pearl," and Doris Baldwin, the nightingale, are chanting the oldest tune. . . . Mittle Pearl Bryant is the top notch cinema author responsible for so many of our prize film adaptations. . . . Dorothy Searcy claims that her black eye is a result of no- looking to see if the swimming pool on Frances Turner's estate had any water in it. . . . Gerald Jones opens at the Dorchester House, London, in a new Katherine Russell play tomorrow. . . . Bob Riser, one of the most sought after bachelors in town, is the new president of the Hermits' Club. . . . Corinne Ball of "Lost Waltz" fame has pledged never to marry another millionaire. She married two and claims it cost her money each time. Her real heart makes thirty dollars per week. She calls him her "bread and potato" man. . . .

JACKSON STUDENTS SING "THE MESSIAH"

Alvin J. King Conducts Sacred Cantata

Dec. 20—The glee clubs of Central High School and Millsaps College, under the direction of Alvin J. King, director of music in the high school, rendered Handel's immortal "Messiah" for the music lovers of Jackson in the municipal Auditorium yesterday afternoon.

The featured soloists of the performance were Magnolia Coulet, soprano; Evelyn King, Contralto; and two former graduates of Central High—Richard King, tenor; and Eugene Loper, baritone.

The chorus was composed of two hundred singers from Central High and eighty-five from Millsaps. The local W. P. A. Orchestra, of which Mr. Tacitus Bucci is the conductor, furnished the accompaniment.

Four months were spent in preparation for this sacred cantata. It is the only major project undertaken during the first half of the school year, and is one of the highlights of the Jackson musical season.

The music classes, immediately after the Christmas holidays, will begin work on "Rumplestiltskin," an operetta by Scott-Gatty, to be presented in the spring, states Mr. King.

CLASS HISTORY

CENTRAL HIGH OPENS 1325 STRONG

Sept. 20—At eight-thirty this morning Central High School began the 1937-'38 session with an enrollment of 1325. Registration having been completed last week, classes began immediately and the year's work started in earnest.

A spirit of anticipation and enthusiasm prevailed in general, despite the fact that some were depressed by the thought of nine months of hard work ahead. When the teacher had completed her roll and made the all too familiar long assignments for the following day, a moan was heard from a bewildered student in English 12-1: "School has really begun!"

YEARBOOK STAFF PRESENTED TO STUDENT BODY

Nov. 23—Yesterday at the regular chapel period, this year's Cotton Boll Staff was presented to the student body. This presentation took the form of a dramatization of the work done by each member of the staff.

George Gillespie, the editor, and his assistants, Julia May Watkins and Thomas Spengler, were seated at their desk on one side of the stage working furiously amid a jumble of papers, rushing to get the Cotton Boll to press.

Across the stage the business manager, Bill Allen, and his assistants, Henry Hederman, Eugene Morse, Martha Sheffield, Doris Baldwin, and Julia May Watkins were madly working to balance figures for the Cotton Boll.

George and Bill called out one by one the members of the staff and asked what each was going to do for the '38 Cotton Boll.

Outstanding in this skit was the class prophet, Crafton Gilpin, decked out as a Hindu Crystal-gazer.

The revising editors, Mary Jane Newsom, Russell Thompson, and Mary Elizabeth Nordin, took great pleasure in revising one of the hilarious (?) contributions of the joke editor, Leah Gordon. Mac McAttee and Evaline Khayat, those super salesmen, demonstrated their ability to handle the circulation end.

The entrance of the Snapshot Editors, Raymond Martin and Bob Riser, was rather unexpected and several good candid shots were taken of some V-E-R-Y surprised students.

One girl was heard to say, "Didn't Helen McGee, Ida Sylvia Hart, and Shelton Key just look too ducky in those artist's smocks and things?"

After a demand from other 38 members of the staff, George Gillespie told what he was going to do for the 1938 Cotton Boll.

George Gillespie and his assistants climaxed the program when they placed every one's efforts in a box, stirred the contents, and pulled out a "1938 Cotton Boll."

SENIOR CLASS

ELECTS OFFICERS

Gillespie to Lead Central Seniors

Oct. 5—George Gillespie leading by an overwhelming majority was elected president of the largest senior class in the history of Central High School. Other officers chosen were: Julia May Watkins, vice president; Beatrice Lehman, secretary; and Eugene Morse, treasurer.

These four were elected from a large number of candidates in a spirited election in which almost every member of the senior class participated.

PRESENTS PLAYS

Mar. 27—The Gay Deceivers, senior dramatic club of Central High School, presented two one-act plays last night at Bailey High School Auditorium: "The Master of Solitaire" starring Monroe Bush, and "His First Dress Suit" starring Melvin Bain. The plays were sponsored by the Senior Class as the first step in raising money for the Senior Class project.

The supporting cast of "The Master of Solitaire" included James Black and Harry Owen. Other members of the cast of "His First Dress Suit" were Helen Ricks, Thomas Spengler, and Frances Northern.

Early Morning Blaze of Undetermined Origin Guts School Chapel

Dec. 18—Central High School's auditorium was totally destroyed early this morning by a three-hour fire, resulting in a $75,000 damage to the structure. Having burned for several hours before it was discovered by two cruising police officers at five A. M., the fire left only the walls and overhead steel girders standing.

All of Jackson's fire equipment was immediately pressed into service, but the firemen did not gain full control of the blaze until eight o'clock. Only the fire-walls prevented total destruction of the entire building.

The school cafeteria, directly below the auditorium, was damaged slightly but will be repaired and put into service after the Christmas holidays. The debris is being cleared today by local prison workers, and temporary repairs are to be made on the auditorium. Entire restoration will be started just before summer vacation.

The loss is completely covered by insurance and adjustments are to be made at once. Destroyed in the fire were the new drapes in the auditorium, the new curtain for the stage, and a new concert grand piano. It is thought that the fire was caused either by faulty wiring or by spontaneous combustion occurring at the side or under the rostrum.

This was the fourth fire at Central High in recent years. The auditorium burned in 1930 and the same year a fire occurred in one of the class rooms. At one time the chemistry laboratory was set afire by faulty electrical wiring.

School will continue as usual after the Christmas holidays, until then being dismissed each day at one o'clock.

Kirby Walker, superintendent of schools, was out of town this morning but has returned to supervise the affairs at hand.

Program Honor Big 8 Members

March 17—The last in a series of programs presented by Central High School over WJDX honoring the schools which are members of the Big 8 Conference was presented today at 4 o'clock.

These programs featured special music by members of the band, chorus, girls' orchestra, and the girl's sextette, with solos by outstanding musical students; and included addresses by Mr. Walker, Mr. Roberts, Dr. Simmons, George Gillespie, and other prominent Centralites.

Strains of calliopes and the laughter of gayly garbed minstrels invite a group of merry boys and girls away from their accustomed homeward paths. Eagerly they follow the parade toward the river. Ah, the Show Boat at last! Up the plank and aboard.

"This is only the beginning—only the beginning!" the familiar voice of Cap'n Henry is heard above the din.

The excursion ends as gayly as it begins—happy smiling Freshmen they were in 1935.

The second annual voyage has about it less of the untrammelled fun-making which characterized the first. Our once merry lads and lassies are growing up, and sophomore seriousness wrinkles many a brow.

The Show Boat voyagers by 1937 have regained most of their former gaiety, but now they are possessed of more than the desire to be entertained. Led by President Billy Sampson and his assistants, Helen Ruoff, Geraldine Sumrall, and Cecil Inman, they are now ready to take part in the Show. From their ranks come announcers of Debate Club renown; actors, who call themselves Vagabonds; comedians, who have many a stunt; musicians, those indispensable boys of the band; journalists ready to cover the show; brawny athletes, whose prowess is the envy of every Centralite.

One bright day in the spring of '38, a procession of retiring actors led by George Gillespie marches slowly down the gang plank. Half regretfully, yet happily, Seniors call to their successors:

"The Show is yours, Class of '39!"

The Sophomores have been so busy becoming acquainted with senior high school ways and customs that they have had no opportunity to set their boat in a definite course or elect officers. They, however, have staunchly supported all senior and junior projects, and, although they have not ventured far from shore, upperclassmen feel that they can be depended upon to make an illustrious voyage. Among their ranks are many leaders, and other gifted students; school spirit is plentiful; and when the class of 1940 does begin turning its wheel, its record will be hard to beat!

Sports Year at A Glance

Football

The Jackson High Tiger football squad began the pigskin season with only a few of the last year members and thus caused much worry and fear on the part of the coaches and the student body. However, the Bengals started the year off with a bang, as Laurel invaded the Capital city for the first game.

The weather just cold enough for a good game, the student body and city backers filling the new stadium (a donation of the city of Jackson), the local scrappers sailed onward into a rather good season.

The Tigers waded through the first half of the year with some wins and a few losses; however, the brilliant victory over Clarksdale, the champions of the Mississippi Delta, revived the fighting spirit in the locals.

The most sudden drop that came to the Bengal squad was the injury of Captain Buddy Davis in the final Vicksburg game. But the student body will long remember the way Frank Ellzey carried on in the shoes of Captain Davis.

Basketball

The Tiger basketball squad started off the cage season with an equally green team, but finished the year with many brilliant victories to their credit.

The local cagers expressed their sincere appreciation to Coaches Broyles and Crawley by earnestly trying to produce an A-1 team, with the result that they occupied a finals bracket in the Big Eight basketball tournament held at Meridian.

Track

Coach "Scrap" Crawley sent out the call for all track men to come to the Millsaps College cinder paths to begin getting in shape for a few slated meets. In answer to this call came several record breakers who will long be remembered by the track fans of CHS.

Houston Jordan, the fast Tiger miler, who sailed to a new regional record in the Middle Mississippi meet, won greatest acclaim among both fans and athletes by his spectacular runs.

In the same track meet Dixie Lewis, Cherry Sisk, Laura Mae Cleveland, Clarence Ball, and Roy Moore jumped to new honors, thus leading Central to victory over Middle Mississippi opponents.

The Bengal squad showed fair results in both All State and the Big Eight meets and proved just as gallant in defeat as in victory.

Tennis

The Jackson High racquet club began the season with a local high school tournament to select the 1938 team. Seemingly, half the student body reported to Coach Berry Ivy to try for honors on the clay court. Out of this number the following were successful: Earl Epperson, Donald Downie, Charles Burnham, Jack Hite, and Johnny Miller.

The Tigers met a few near-by teams and were in good shape as the time for the Middle Mississippi meet arrived. The Jackson squad placed excellent in the meet, but won only one place. Earl Epperson met "Red" Hovius of Vicksburg and copped the Middle Mississippi singles championship.

The Bengal racquet squad participated in both All State and the Big Eight meets and revealed some excellent tennis playing in both matches.

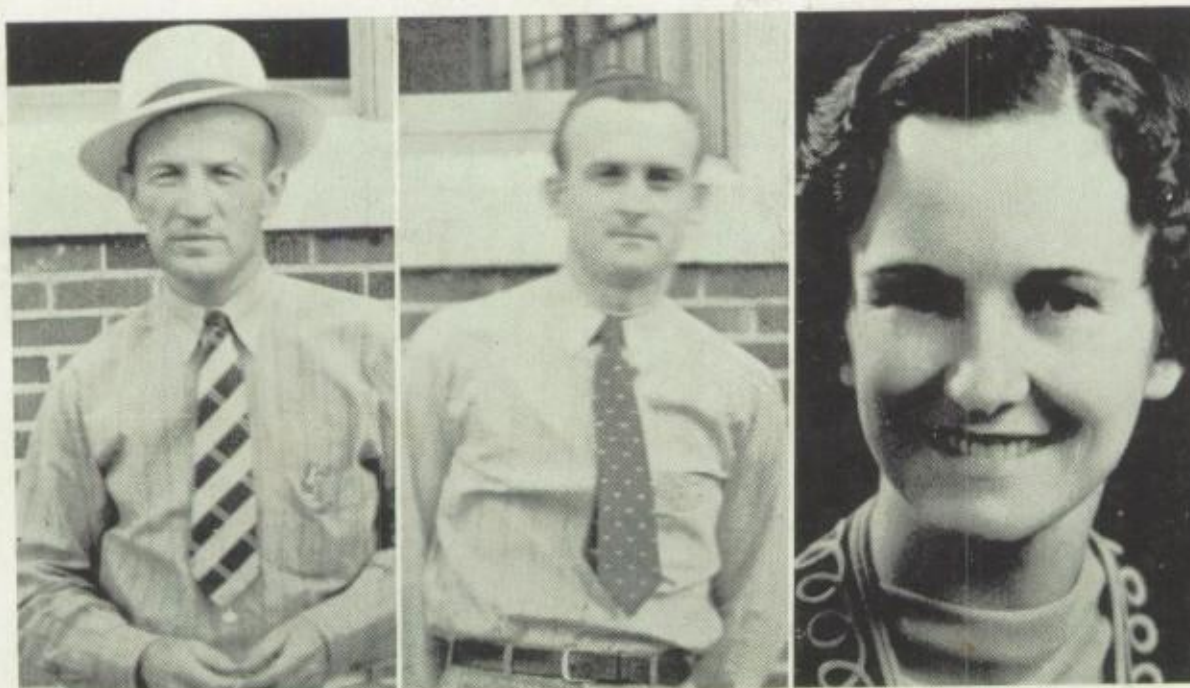

Near the close of the season, Charles Burnham was replaced by Clay Miller.

As Epperson was the only member of the team to graduate, next year's squad will be even more gallant with Don Downie, John Miller, and Clay Miller left.

Golf

After a few golf-minded students had organized their club and asked Mr. Ray Barnett to coach them, a local tournament was held to select the Tiger team. The following boys finished on top: Fred Walley, Paul Allen, Hale Roberts, and Clayton Head.

The main meet in which the golfers participated was a five-way meet at Natchez. In this tournament the locals placed third with Clayton Head and Fred Walley representing the high school.

COACHING STAFF

BROYLES: H. F. Broyles, head athletic director of the Jackson Public schools, occupies the seat of honor at Central High school because of his genial and friendly attitude toward all students, and his excellent coaching ability.

Coach Broyles played high school football at C. H. S., under the coaching of Professor J. L. Roberts, back in the "hard hitting" days of 1921.

The athletic director attended Jackson High, Marion Institute, United States Military Academy, and Mississippi State College. His stern guidance is a gift from his army connection at the U. S. Military academy, and his pride in Mississippi, from his years at Mississippi State.

During his twelve years at Central, Coach Broyles has trained at different times one All American, two All Southern, and three Big Eight gridsters.

To Lieutenant H. F. Broyles the Class of 1938 extends their wish for great success not only for his "13th" year of coaching, but also for the rest of his career.

CRAWLEY: R. W. "Scrap" Crawley, assistant coach at Central High, is finishing his third year on the coaching staff in Jackson. Immediately after graduating from Mississippi College, Coach Crawley accepted a coaching position at Gulfport. From the coast high school, he moved to Brookhaven to teach and coach in the high school. He then came to the home of the Tigers where he coaches football, basketball and track.

The sport fans of the Tigers describe Coach "Scrap" as "one of the best assistant coaches in the State," and the Jackson High student body crown him as "the best."

LILLY: Mrs. Grace Crawley Lilly, who coached a Big Eight champion basketball team in 1937, is completing her second year as director of girls' athletics at Central High.

After her graduation from Mississippi State College for Women, Mrs. Lilly attended the University of Alabama and Louisiana State University for special training in physical education.

An instructor in physical education at East Mississippi Junior college for three years, and at East Tupelo High school one year, Mrs. Lilly came to Jackson well prepared to direct girls' athletics at Central High.

Mrs. Lilly is assisted by Miss Katherine Ward, who guided the Tigerette tennis team through the 1938 season.

BEHIND THE LINES

The Tigers met Laurel in the new Tiger Bowl for the first event of the 1938 season. The Laurel boys put up a good fight and kept local supporters in suspense, but the old Tiger spirit finally triumphed by a score of 14 to 12.

The second event of the season was the clash with the Canton High Panthers, which ended a 7 to 6 victory for Jackson.

The local warriors met their first defeat when they fell under the mighty blow of the Pike County Tigers of McComb, whose 37 to 0 victory took the Big Eight Championship from Jackson.

Brookhaven, thirsting for revenge after last year's defeat, invaded the Capitol City during Fair Week. The game, witnessed by a stadium full of "School and College Day" visitors, proved to be one of Jackson's best. Billy Holder's freak passing brought fans to their feet, and the spirits of both Jackson and Brookhaven supporters rose and fell by turns as both teams, receiving many penalties, plowed through a hard-fought game, but the Brookhaven Panthers got the revenge they came for by a score of 13 to 7.

For the last event of the month of October, the Central High Tigers were hosts to the Gulfport Commodores and a large number of Coast City backers. The Jackson squad underestimated Gulfport's strength and, though in excellent condition, failed to finish on top, as they had done the previous year. The game gave the Commodores a 13 to 6 victory, despite the excellent performances of Ellzey and Davis and the spirited playing of the entire team.

Three consecutive defeats had crippled the old Tiger in spirit and many accidents had left him lame in body; local fans had lost hopes, but Central's clash with the champions of the Delta, Clarksdale, proved that a "new" Bengal team had come out to blast her opponents' chances for the second annual Delta championship. The 21 to 7 victory for the Tigers was witnessed by more visiting than local supporters, but their renewed confidence after this success got them in shape for their last three big games.

Under this new "Reign of The Tiger," the boys moved into the camp of one of their most formidable enemies, Hattiesburg. They played a fine game, featuring excellent passing, and held the Hubbers to a 7 to 7 tie.

The clash with Kosciusko, Central's third out-of-town game, was an unexpected 26 to 6 victory for the Tigers.

Thanksgiving Day saw the student body armed with orange and black feathers and plenty of pep moving en masse to Vicksburg to witness what may prove to be the annual pigskin classic of Central High.

Though weakened early in the game by the loss of Buddy Davis, great Tiger Captain, the Bengals, fighting bravely, took the first half by blocking a punt behind the goal line. With Frank Ellzey in command, the strong Vicksburg gridsters, slated to run away with Jackson boys, were barely able to win the game by a score of 6 to 2.

By their splendid performance in the Vicksburg game, the Tigers to a man won their way to the hearts of every loyal Centralite. And although they are not still the champions of the Big Eight Conference, they are the champions of Central High.

Boys' Basketball

The Jackson Tigers began the 1937-38 basketball year with one or two seasoned players and a surplus of green material. The season was fair. Their many tilts, if not always successful in score, toughened the tenderfoot Tiger squad to take the hard knocks, and gave us a team which may ride to championship next year.

In December the Tigers met the fast little team from Satartia for their first match game, and, after many substitutions and much coaching, emerged victorious with a score of 32 to 19.

The next cage event was with Yazoo City and a 34 to 14 victory for the Tigers, despite their clumsiness, which daily practice in the new Central gym had done little to correct.

McComb, one of Jackson's bitterest enemies, dealt the Tigers the first death-blow of the season, toppling them with a score of 30 to 24. However, in a battle, just after the McComb defeat, the Tigers started their winning spree by trouncing Morgan City with a score of 52 to 19.

The Bengals next met Vicksburg for a cage fete which, though one of the best games of the season, ended in disaster, as last year's Big Eight champs—the Vicksburg Greenies wore their opponents out and walked home with a 28 to 19 victory.

The next week-end, Meridian, host to the Jackson quintet for a pair of games, swapped victories with their visitors. The first game went to Meridian with a score of 28 to 19. The next night the Crawley "Scrappers" matched points with the Wildcats and came home with a 29 to 19 honor.

The Bengals, hosts to Hazlehurst in the new cage gym, sent their visitors home in ignominious defeat to the tune of 51 to 26. By this time a little smile and an occasional grin could be seen on Coach Crawley's face, as he viewed with pride the excellent showing which his boys were making against their opponents.

On Tuesday night of the following week the smile vanished from the face of Coach "Scrap", as the Bengals lost to Vicksburg the second time. The Tigers held their opponents with a close score until the last few minutes of the game, when the Burgans rallied and piled up a score of 44 to Jackson's 30.

The Bengals won their second battle against Hazlehurst by a score of 42 to 30. The Hazlehurst-Jackson fete filled the Tiger gym to capacity with enthusiastic local and visiting fans.

The Meridian squad played the locals two return games in the Capital City and again swapped victories, winning the first game by a score of 28 to 19 and losing the second to the Tigers by 29 to 24.

Next came the Magee lads with a large following from the Magee high school. The visitors handed the Tigers a mean defeat with a final score of 38 to 32.

The following week the Bengals, playing on Magee's court, found the revenge they were seeking in a score of 25 to 19.

New rivals for the locals and of unquestionable strength, the Gulf Coast Cadets defeated the Tigers by 38 to 32.

The Bengals lost the last game of the season when they clashed the second time with McComb, who handed her opponents a 36 to 28 loss.

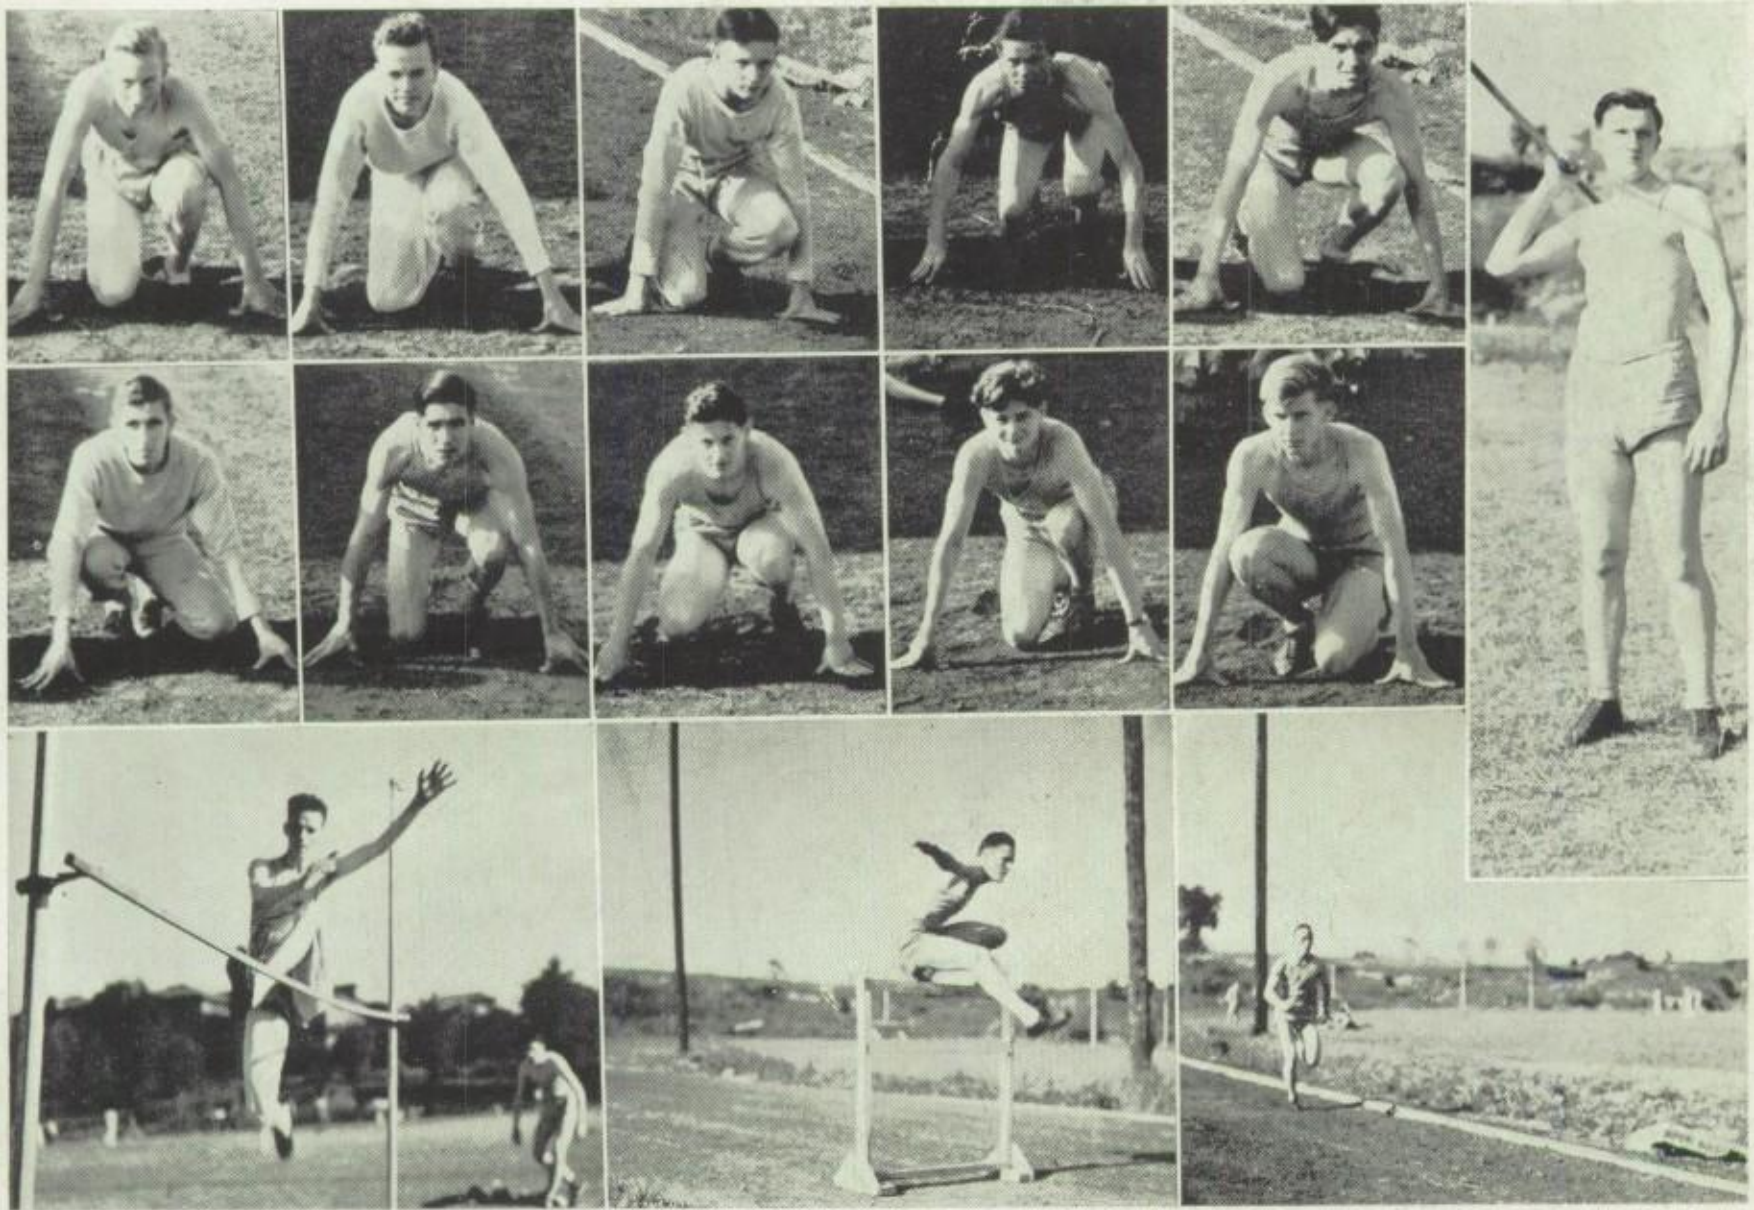

The Tigers met the Cagers from the Mississippi School for the Deaf in a number of practice games and split even in victories. The 1938 Tiger Squad extends congratulations to the M. S. D. boys for winning the Middle Mississippi regional basketball trophy.

The regular Jackson High Cage Squad was made up of the following boys: Swor, Prickett, Vick, R. Moore, D. Moore, Ellzey, Holder, Vickers, Shaw, Powell, Bethune, and Wren.

THE TIGER

The Jackson girls basketball team, or the Tiger Lilies as they are called, showed fine sportsmanship and teamwork and did some splendid playing. Their games were usually fast and exciting, and were often lost by a slight margin of one or two points, despite the fact that their scores show merely a fair season. They went to the semi-finals in the BIG EIGHT tournament, where they were defeated by McComb.

The first team forwards, Cherry Sisk and Dean Gates, are the only two members of the main team who will play next year. Cherry, known as a "little streak of lightning", earned an honorable mention on the All Big Eight team. Substitute forwards were Zetta Wheelis and Mary Agnes Goodson.

Captain Dixie Lewis and Margaret Outlaw, two of the best centers in Jackson's history, literally "ran circles around" their opponents, and played spectacular basketball during the entire season. Captain Lewis also played forward, and almost as well there as at center. Both girls made All Big Eight honorable mention. Jessie ("Bebe") Hammond and Frances Hathorn substituted as centers in a number of games.

Mary Ann Armstrong and Mary Stone "guarded" against losing, and had little trouble in looking down on their opponents; in fact, they were usually known as the "tall guards". Mary Stone made All Big Eight. Substitutes Laura Mae Cleveland and Corinne Crook will very likely be first string guards next year as a result of their hard work this season.

Manager Frances (Fanny) Turner, also unofficial All Big Eight Manager, proved to be as important as any of the players.

Coach Grace Lilly, now in her second year at Central, is one of the best and most popular coaches the Jackson girls have ever had the good fortune to have. As a tribute to her popularity the Jackson girls have changed their name from "Tigerettes" to "Tiger Lilies".

JOURNALISM CLASS

Central High sponsors no activities more important than those of the Journalism class. Since its organization in 1935 by Mr. Nash K. Burger, this class has published regularly during the school year two Sunday pages "Tiger Talks" in the Daily Clarion Ledger and "Scholastic Scoops" in the Jackson Daily News, and one daily column, "Daily Scoops" in the Jackson Daily News.

Mr. Burger's successful years in teaching journalism at Central ended with his resignation in 1937. He was succeeded by Mr. James Byron Enochs at the beginning of the 1937-38 session, who in turn was succeeded by Mrs. Leone Shotwell Ricketts, both of whom have maintained the same high standard set by the charter members of the Journalism class.

As the class meets daily, the students have many opportunities to learn the technique of news writing and other phases of newspaper work. The editors of the three papers, Henry Hederman of "Tiger Talks", Bill Allen of "Scholastic Scoops", and Raymond Martin of "Daily Scoops", assume complete responsibility for their page or column. It is this opportunity to learn newspaper work, available to all ambitious students, which gives the journalism department at Central its greatest value.

In a number of other ways the class serves the school. The two Sunday papers and daily column serve as agents of publicity for school projects and announcements. They are an important source of school news and of news of social and community activities which pertain especially to students. They are media of exchange between our school and other high schools.

R. O. T. C.

The flash of steel, the gleam of polished brass, the tramp of marching feet, and Central High's crack R. O. T. C. battalion comes into view.

This important phase of school life is comparatively new, having been introduced at Central only a few years ago. Yet it is doing an invaluable service to its ranks by teaching discipline, respect for authority, and ideals of patriotism. These alone, without the splendid physical training which drilling necessitates, would justify its existence at Central.

The R. O. T. C. battalion is divided into Company A and Company B. Cadet Major Edgar Wright commands the battalion.

Early in the year the cadets selected as sponsors three of Central's most charming girls: Edna Erle Bishop, battalion sponsor; Helen Jane Smith, Company A sponsor; and Dixie Lewis, Company B sponsor.

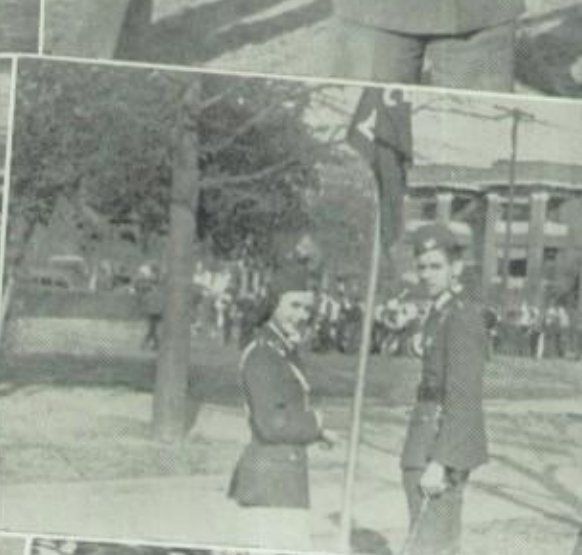

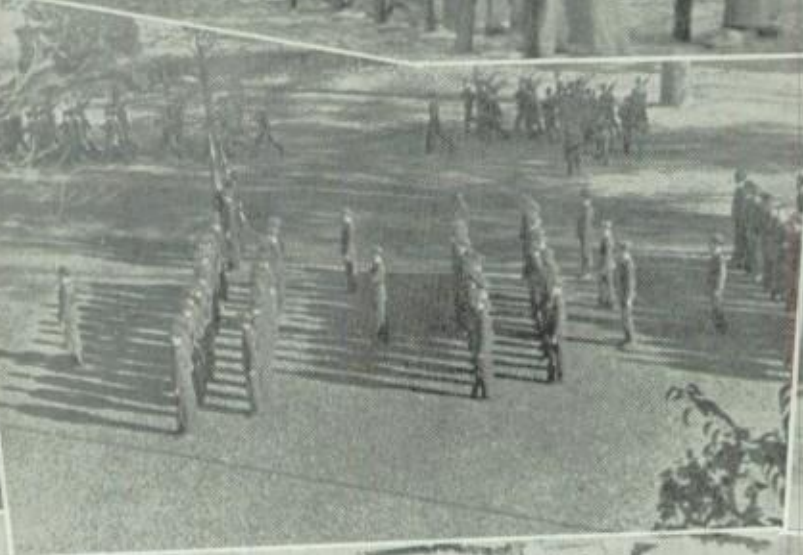

Inspection Day, April 28, found 160 boys in brilliant military array. As ours is the only high school unit in the state, we rejoice that so many boys have taken advantage of the opportunity to train themselves to serve their country. The primary function of the units of the Reserve Officers Training Corps is to give military instruction, but they do something more. To the boys in their ranks comes a better understanding of citizenship, and, because they realize the army's singleness of purpose to preserve liberty and peace, to them also comes a greater appreciation of peaceful civilian life.

THE BAND

The Central High School Band, under the direction of Mr. Louis E. Pullo, is an integral part of the school, and of the community. It serves both in numerous ways.

At present there are seventy-one in the band including the three drum majors. Soon after the opening of school last September, they chose Miss Olga Wright, a popular senior, as sponsor. During the autumn months of the school year, they played at all the football games and did their part to spur the Tigers on to victory. At the opening of the Mississippi State Fair, they paraded, as they do each year, and during the following week played each evening at the fair grounds.

The only school to win superior rating in both concert and marching in the statewide band contest held April 28-30 in Jackson, Central High has genuine cause for pride. Because of their splendid rating in this contest, the band was invited to attend the national regional contest at Louisville, Kentucky.

They also won superior rating in drum ensemble, and one member of the band, Eugene Smith, deserves special mention for winning superior rating with his cornet solo.

Three concerts have been given by the band this year, one at Enochs and two at Bailey. The proceeds of the first two will be used to purchase new uniforms. The objective of the third concert, one of the biggest events of the band's year, was to defray the cost of the trip to Louisville. Besides these events, the Band Auxiliary sponsored the appearance of David Rubinoff, celebrated violinist, and his pianists, Fray and Bragiotti, whose two performances were major events in Jackson's musical season.

ANNUAL STAFF

It is the aim of every annual staff to present an attractive volume which embodies, as concisely and accurately as possible, the events of the year which it covers. There are always barriers to the accomplishment of this purpose. The members of the 1938 Cotton Boll staff have had their share of these difficulties, some of which they were unable to overcome. They have attempted, though not always successfully, to preserve that which is essentially interesting and valuable to the student body of Central High School.

Belhaven stands upon its record of more than forty years of service to the young women of the South. To meet the demands of the new age, the college for women must provide something more than academic training. Belhaven has not changed its standards or ideals but it is constantly improving its technique and changing its program to provide "Quality Education." Investigate the New Belhaven Plan of Intensive Courses. See Belhaven before choosing.

Henry Hederman to Miss Gibson: "I'll tell you why I like Zane Grey better than Shakespeare. When Zane Grey saw a bow-legged man coming down the street he said, 'Here comes a bow-legged man.' Shakespeare swelled up and said 'What manner of men are these who come carrying their legs in parentheses?'"

PATRONS

As public-minded citizens of Jackson of today, we are interested in the Jackson school system, realizing the valuable training it gives in developing public-minded citizens of tomorrow. We are proud of the record the 1938 graduating class has made in school, and we know that they will make an even greater record after graduation.

"Do you think she'll miss me?", sang "Termite" Hines, in a cracked voice.

"If she does she ought never to be trusted with a gun again," yelped "Pooky" Jones.

Helen Ricks: (on a Latin exam) "Miss Johnston, must we answer these in order?"

Miss Johnston: "Yes, in order to pass."

Miss Clingan: (to her first period class) Are there any excuses for me?

W. H. Van Dusen: No, Miss Clingan, there is no excuse for you.

Guy Dobbs to Wilden Rice, while horseback riding, "Shall we take the bridle path?"

Wilden Rice: "Oh, Guy, this is so sudden!"

Miss Clingan: Will the introduction of women into jury service make conditions any better?

Swayze McKithen: It will make decisions slower.

Raymond Martin: George, why did Mr. Roberts want the annual to come out before May 20.

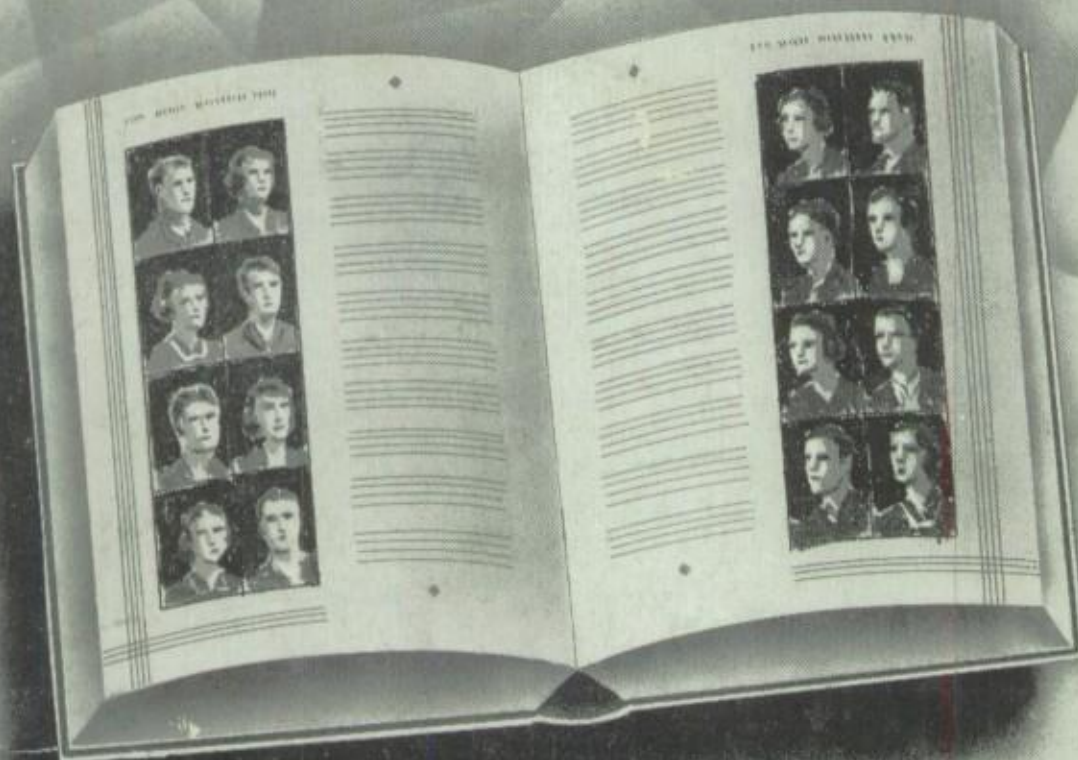

George: So everybody could find the point to Leah's jokes before graduation night.
